A

BILL

to provide for the temporary stay of proceedings for delivery of possession in execution of certain decrees for ejectment of certain non-agricultural tenants.

WHEREAS it is expedient, pending the enactment of further legislation, to provide for the temporary stay of proceedings for delivery of possession in execution of certain decrees for ejectment of certain non-agricultural tenants;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and duration.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Non-Agricultural Tenancy (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1940.

(2) It extends to any area which has been or may hereafter be constituted a municipality under the provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, other than such suburbs of the town of Calcutta as may have been or may hereafter be notified under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866. Ben. Act XV of 1932. Ben. Act II of 1866.

(3) It shall continue in force for two years from the date of its commencement.

Definition of a non-agricultural tenant.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

"non-agricultural tenant" means a tenant who holds under another person, and is liable to pay rent to such person for, non-agricultural land which, under the terms of any agreement, such tenant is entitled to use for any homestead or residential purpose or for the conduct thereon of any commercial or industrial enterprise, but does not include a tenant who so holds non-agricultural land together with any structure thereon erected or owned by the person under whom such tenant holds or by the superior or predecessor in interest of such person.

Stay of proceedings for delivery of possession in execution of certain decrees for ejectment of non-agricultural tenants.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, all proceedings in any Court for delivery of possession in execution of a decree for ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant shall be stayed after the thirtieth day of January, 1940 and for the period during which this Act continues in force :

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any proceeding for delivery of possession in execution of a decree for ejectment of such tenant on account of—

(a) the non-payment of rent by such tenant, or

(b) the breach by such tenant of any condition specified in any agreement in which the breach of such condition is specified as rendering such tenant liable to ejectment, or

(c) the expiry of the period specified in any instrument registered under the Indian Registration Act, 1908, as being the period during which such tenant is entitled to hold the land. XVI of 1908.

(Clauses 4—8.)

Setting aside of certain orders for delivery of possession.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, a non-agricultural tenant or a person who, but for his ejectment in execution of a decree for ejectment, would have been deemed to be a non-agricultural tenant for the purposes of this Act, if he has been ejected between the thirtieth day of January, 1940 and the date of the commencement of this Act in execution of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable, may, within three months from the date of his ejectment and without payment of any fee under the Court-fees Act, 1870, apply to the Court which made the order for delivery of possession to have such order set aside; and such Court, if satisfied that the order was made between the dates aforesaid and in any proceeding in execution of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable, shall set aside the order and shall direct that the applicant be restored to possession of the land to which the order relates, but shall not award any costs.

Right to realize rent and compensation in certain cases.

5. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force—

(1) the holder of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable shall be entitled—

(a) after the thirtieth day of January, 1940, and for the period during which this Act continues in force, to realize from the judgment-debtor rent at the rate at which the judgment-debtor was paying rent when notice to quit was served upon him, and

(b) between the thirtieth day of January, 1940 and the date of the commencement of this Act, in respect of compensation awarded under such decree, to realize from the judgment-debtor compensation calculated on the basis of the rate at which the judgment-debtor was paying rent when notice to quit was served upon him; and

(2) the realization of rent under sub-clause (a), or of compensation under sub-clause (b), of clause (1) shall not be deemed to estop the decree-holder from executing the decree for ejectment when such decree becomes executable.

Stay of all proceedings in execution of certain ejectment decrees pending at the date of the commencement of this Act.

6. Subject to the provisions of sections 4 and 5, every proceeding in execution of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable, which is pending at the date of the commencement of this Act, shall be stayed for the period during which this Act continues in force.

Saving of limitation.

7. In computing the period provided by any law for the time being in force for the execution of a decree for ejectment to which the provisions of section 3 are applicable, or for the institution of a suit for the ejectment of non-agricultural tenant, the period during which this Act continues in force shall be excluded

Exemption of certain tenants.

8. Nothing in this Act shall apply to any tenant who holds non-agricultural land under the Central or provincial Government or under a local authority

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Government appointed a Committee to enquire into the rights of tenants in urban areas and it is still sitting. Until it makes recommendations it is not possible for Government to decide their line of action with regard to legislation if any but it has been brought to the notice of Government that steps are being taken by certain landlords to evict such tenants from their holdings with the object of preventing them from obtaining the benefit of any legislation which Government may decide to introduce. This Bill has been brought as a temporary measure in order to preserve the status quo for the time being.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 247A.—23rd January 1940.—Cancel existing Appendix IX of the Departmental Examination Rules, published with Appointment Department notification No. 2931A., dated the 1st May 1917, and substitute the following:—

APPENDIX IX.

Rules for training of Assistant Magistrates, Deputy Magistrates, and Sub-Deputy Magistrates.

1. These rules apply to all Assistant Magistrates, all Deputy Magistrates appointed by direct recruitment, and all Sub-Deputy Magistrates, appointed after the 1st October 1939; but the programme of departmental training of a Sub-Deputy Magistrate appointed by promotion should be modified in the light of the officer's previous experience.

2. It is the duty of District Officers to look to the practical training of the young officers placed under them, from their first entering into official life till they acquire a practical experience of their work and qualify themselves for the exercise of higher powers, by passing the prescribed examinations. District Officers are expected to take an active interest in the well-being of the young men placed under them by exercising due supervision over their studies, by testing their official knowledge, and by any other means which may seem to them to be expedient for the purpose.

3. During the first year of their training, Assistant Magistrates should devote the greater part of the period from December to March to outdoor work. The District Officer should take them with him on his tours. Of this period they should spend at least six weeks with the Subdivisional Officer of an outlying subdivision. Where this can be conveniently arranged, they should also spend some time in learning the work of a circle officer. During this circle training, they should spend about a week in camp at a selected thana studying the general working of the police-station. This touring will give them facilities for practice in the language of the province, but will not relieve them of the duty of studying for their first departmental examination.

On their return to headquarters in about the middle of March, they should attend courts, study cases, and receive the other training described in the subsequent rules. Miscellaneous outdoor enquiries may be undertaken at all times, especially during the rains.

4. As soon as any junior officer to whom these rules apply is posted to his district, the District Officer should prepare a programme showing, with reference to the work in his office, the periods which the junior officer will spend in the several departments. Each junior officer should receive a copy of the programme of his work, and the programme should be entered in a register.

The programme should be reviewed when the results of the departmental examinations are known and modifications made in it according to the officer's success or failure in different subjects.

5. Junior officers should be trained so as to get as much experience as possible in Magisterial and Revenue Courts, with a view to their acquiring a knowledge of official routine. They should also study the Codes and the Acts to enable them to go up for their departmental examinations.

6. Every junior officer should keep a diary and record briefly the work done by him day by day. The diary should be submitted to the Deputy Collector under whom they are working for the time, and should be seen by the Collector once a month.

7. Every officer to whom these rules apply is required to prepare an intelligent and precise record of six cases tried by first class Magistrates and of three defended Sessions trials.

The cases to be recorded will be selected for the purpose by the District Magistrate or by such Magistrate as may be deputed by him to select the cases: appellate cases will not be included.

The officer preparing the record must prepare it from notes taken by himself in court as the trial proceeds. He must ordinarily be present in court throughout the trial of the case which he is reporting, and he should not see the depositions recorded by the Magistrate. But if he is unavoidably absent from a small part of the hearing, the Magistrate may show him the portion of the record which he has missed.

The Magistrate will show him the judgment which he may read and from which he may take notes, but he must write in his own language a judgment fulfilling the conditions of section 367 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

It is not necessary that the notes of the statements of witnesses should contain everything which is recorded by the Magistrate, but they must contain an intelligible narrative and all important points must be brought out. When two or more witnesses repeat the same story, the examination-in-chief of all of them need not be fully noted, but the record must show the points of difference.

The Magistrate trying the case, or in Sessions cases, the Public Prosecutor, should give to the officer preparing the record a certificate of his constant attendance throughout the hearing. If he has been unavoidably absent from part of the hearing, the certificate should show for what part he was absent.

The record should consist of—

(i) a summary of the evidence, with notes on it, showing its admissibility and applicability to the offence charged;

(ii) notes on the procedure with references to the Codes, e.g., to such matters as the rules as to cross-examinations, re-examination, drawing up of charge and taking the statement of the accused;

(iii) a precis of the arguments adduced for the prosecution and the defence, and, in the case of Sessions trials, a precis of the Judge's charge to the jury.

It should be understood that value will be given to notes intelligently based on annotated editions of the Criminal Procedure Code, Penal Code, and Evidence Act.

8. The District Magistrate will forward these records to the Legal Remembrancer, who will, at any time before the date fixed for the departmental examination, send a statement of his opinion thereon to the Public Service Commission for consideration and submission to Government with the result of each half-yearly examination. The District Magistrate should keep himself informed of the progress which is made in the preparation of these records so as to ensure that they are punctually submitted, and should examine the first record of each officer to see that it has been prepared on the right lines. The records referred to in this rule must be prepared and submitted to the Legal Remembrancer within twelve months of an officer's joining his first appointment unless for any special reason Government grant an extension of this period.

If in the opinion of the Legal Remembrancer, an officer has once prepared the record satisfactorily, he will not be required to do so again, even although he may not be adjudged to have passed in Law.

9. (1) Assistant Magistrates on first joining should attend the court of a selected first class Magistrate (preferably the Sadar Subdivisional Magistrate) and should be given simple cases to try when the District Magistrate considers that they have acquired sufficient experience. They should later attend the taking of the general file in the court of the Subdivisional Magistrate.

(2) Probationary Deputy and Sub-Deputy Magistrates, during the period of their training in the Magisterial Department, should attend the court of a first class Magistrate, selected by the District Magistrate, during the trial of criminal cases.

(3) Every officer to whom these rules apply should also spend one day each in the courts of the District Judge and the District Magistrate, when these officers are engaged in hearing appeals.

10. All junior officers are required to undergo a training in treasury work, and for that purpose should be placed in charge of the district treasury, under the general supervision of the Deputy Collector ordinarily in charge, for a period of not less than six weeks continuously, and must obtain a certificate from the Collector to the effect that they have duly attended to and satisfactorily discharged the duties of Treasury Officer for the prescribed period.

11. Junior officers should not take up survey and settlement work before they are deputed to the annual training camp. The rules for the regulation of this camp are contained in the Survey and Settlement Manual.

The programme prepared under rule 4 should make provision for short periods to be spent in learning the nature of the work which is done in the several departments of the District office, and junior officers should be required to study the manuals concerned while they are engaged in those departments.

For a period not usually exceeding one month they may be placed in subordinate charge of the Chaukidari Department in order to learn the office procedure. They should also study the miscellaneous work of the Magistrate's office, and should be put in charge for a short period of the Copying Department of the Collectorate record-room.

12. Junior officers should not be required to work as clerks, or to write up registers; they should, however, prepare notes or precis of cases and draft letters. They should see all the papers which go up to the Deputy Collector, and the Deputy Collector should utilise their services in any way that he can in connection with the cases. The Deputy Collector should, at the same time, see that they make themselves acquainted with the law and rules on the subject, and should from time to time require them to prepare notes explaining the procedure or the reasons for any action taken in a particular case. In departments the work of which involves the keeping of accounts or registers, they should check and initial entries made in registers, check the accounts and examine the preparation of returns. They should make a special point of attending all inspections by the gazetted officers in charge of departments and by the Collector, and should assist during those inspections.

13. At the end of an officer's period of training in any department, the Deputy Magistrate or Deputy Collector in charge of the department should record a note in the register referred to in rule 4 stating how he has attended to his duties and a general opinion of his industry and ability. This should be shown to the District Officer who should personally interview each junior officer at least once a month and ascertain by oral examination whether he has acquired a reasonable amount of information about the working of the departments in which he has been under training. If such examination shows that any officer is insufficiently acquainted with the working of any department, he should be sent back for a further period or further periods of training in that department until his knowledge of its working is adequate, and the programme of work referred to in rule 4 should be modified accordingly. An officer in charge of a department must realise that he is held personally responsible for seeing that officers under training are given every opportunity of becoming fully acquainted with the working of the department and make full use of their opportunities.

14. Junior officers may be deputed for miscellaneous enquiries in regard to criminal cases when the inspection of a locality or other matter is important, and they may be examined in court as to their reports. They may also be deputed to conduct specific enquiries in chaukidari matters and to preside at the payment of chaukidars; before doing this they should make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the rules. Their services may also with advantage be utilised for distributing and collecting agricultural loans, for making local enquiries in probate cases, for assisting the Land Acquisition Collector in making local payments, for enquiries about agricultural calamities, and for inspecting accounts in Government estates. Such duties need not necessarily be restricted to the immediate neighbourhood of the district headquarters.

15. Members of the Bengal Junior Civil Service should be given at least six weeks' training (not necessarily in one spell) in the work of a circle officer by being deputed for training to different circles, during which period they will be instructed in the work of checking assessment lists, performing annual audits, and in the other duties of a circle officer. Members of the Bengal Civil Service should be given about three weeks' general training in the work of a circle officer.

16. All junior officers should make themselves familiar with the appearance and the names of local crops as well as of the time of sowing and harvesting. They should also, as far as possible, study the elements of agriculture in the works on agriculture, both general and Indian, which will be found in the district libraries.

17. All officers will be given training in co-operative principles and practice for about a fortnight (not necessarily in one continuous spell) under the guidance of the local Assistant Registrar or Inspector of Co-operative Societies; it will be sufficient to enable an officer to learn in a broad way what is the object of the co-operative movement, its history and progress in Bengal, how societies are supposed to work, and what are the main mistakes to be avoided. Two or three days will be devoted to theoretical instruction upon primary societies. This will be followed by visits to different types of primary societies including at least—

(a) two Credit Societies (one of a fair and one of a poor standard); and, as far as may locally be possible, one each of the following:—

(b) Village Improvement Societies;

(c) Weavers' Societies;

(d) Agricultural Produce Sale and Supply Societies;

(e) Fishery Societies (East and South Bengal);

(f) Irrigation Societies (Burdwan Division).

Further theoretical instruction will then be given upon Central and Limited Liability ("Urban") Banks followed by a visit to one of each of these two types of society.

The training should be completed in as compact a period of time as is conveniently possible, and a certificate should be obtained from the Assistant Registrar that the requisite training has been given.

18. In August or September each year, Assistant Magistrates will be deputed to Dacca for a short course of training lasting about ten days at the Dacca Agricultural Farm, to enable them to acquaint themselves with the work of the Agriculture Department.

Explanatory.—Four forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown and the general condition of the crop in the early stages

Acreage.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total area sown is 175,000 acres this year as against 173,400 and 174,000 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.
